Steeple Sounds

From The Desk of Rev. Beth

I have a confession.

Between writing reflections, a weekly sermon, a monthly newsletter article, annual report, and teaching classes, in addition to all the meetings and events and hospital/rehab/nursing home/home visits and on and on... I have these moments of wanting to say, "Y'all, I've got nothing left to say."

But then again, I do.
Ready?
Love one another.
Every. single. person.

"I give you a new commandment, that you love one another. Just as I have loved you, you also should love one another." -John 13:34

(When in doubt or tired or feeling uninspired, we can always quote Jesus.)

In Memory of Poet Mary Oliver

1935-2019

"Wild Geese"

You do not have to be good.
You do not have to walk on your knees
for a hundred miles through the desert repenting.
You only have to let the soft animal of your body love what it loves.
Tell me about despair, yours, and I will tell you mine.
Meanwhile the world goes on.
Meanwhile the sun and the clear pebbles of the rain are moving across the landscapes, over the prairies and the deep trees, the mountains and the rivers.
Meanwhile the wild geese, high in the clean blue air, are heading home again.
Whoever you are, no matter how lonely,
the world offers itself to your imagination,
calls to you like the wild geese, harsh and exciting over and over announcing your place in the family of things.

Lenten Book Study!

"Out of Sorts: Making Peace with an Evolving Faith" by Sarah Bessey
Saturday, March 30th in the Fireplace Room at 10:00 AM!

In this book, Sarah Bessey—award-winning blogger and author-- helps us grapple with core Christian issues using a mixture of beautiful storytelling and biblical teaching, a style well described as “narrative theology.”

In the process of gently helping us sort things out, Bessey teaches us how to be as comfortable with uncertainty as we are with solid answers. And as we learn to hold questions in one hand and answers in the other, we discover new depths of faith that will remain secure even through the storms of life.

Come to an open discussion on these topics and more! Book available through your local library or Amazon.

Please feel free to contact any of the Deacons. We are here to help and serve.

From the Board of Trustees

Good day from your Board of Trustees! Please keep our roof in your prayers as repairs to shingles blown off in March 2018 are still pending. Trustees have a solution "in the works" but are dependent on the only vendor (we've been able to find) who won't insist on re-roofing the entire church building. We are moving forward with the installation of additional ventilation for the church kitchen in hopes of lessening chances of cooking smoke bringing the fire department to our building on first and third Sundays each month. We have recently rectified issues with the Fireplace Room heating thermostat as well as the fireplace thermostat. Upcoming projects include the fixing or upgrading the underground wiring to the church sign near the common, resolving ongoing dishwasher issues and (of course) that roof...

Trustees is seeking new members through the Nominating process, please kindly see Ed MacIntosh, or to volunteer either join our committee or assist at some task you would be comfortable (and skilled) with/at. Thanks for your attention, we'll keep the lights on for you!

From Christian Outreach

On January 11th, members of Christian Outreach and several helpful volunteers distributed the donations of warm clothing to patrons of the Our Daily Bread soup kitchen in Taunton. The distribution was a huge success and completed just in time to provide some additional warmth to those in need before Mother Nature decided to unleash the harsh conditions of the Winter Season. The individuals who benefited from the distribution were gracious and so very thankful for the assistance and I think I speak for all of the CSCC team members in attendance when I say it was a humbling experience. Many thanks to all who donated!

For a few days after the distribution, I could not locate the coat I had worn that day. My favorite coat, one I would describe as being warm, comfortable & versatile, was nowhere to be found! While lamenting this fact to my 15 year old daughter, Kate, I mused the following out-loud, “wouldn’t it be ironic if I lost my coat while handing out coats?” Without missing a beat, Kate responded with the following anecdote from a recent confirmation class:

“Grace was telling Reverend Beth that she was upset because she had misplaced a cross ring that had held sentimental value and Beth responded by saying that hopefully Grace’s ring had been found by someone who needed it more (than Grace). Maybe someone who needed your coat more than you found it.”

So many feelings converged and made this a powerful moment for me; what I believe Reverend Beth would refer to as a “God Moment.” It was the simple reminder that there are so many people in need but also the realization that, as a result of her involvement with CSCC, Kate was learning the importance of Outreach. Clearly the discussions Kate was having with her confirmation class were having a positive impact and opening her eyes to the world around her.

I hoped that Kate witnessing my recent efforts in regards to the Warmth in Cold Places campaign was, in some small way, also helping to impress upon her the importance of helping those in need. The daily struggle to prioritize and meet obligations is, for me, a real challenge to which Kate has a front row seat. I am constantly in awe of others who appear to do so much (good) so well when I can’t seem to get out of my own way. I continue to be motivated by these individuals who manage to make such an impact on so many while dealing with their own families, jobs, responsibilities and am very thankful that, through our involvement in CSCC, Kate and my two sons have been exposed to so many incredible individuals dedicated to Outreach.

A few days after the God Moment, I actually came across my favorite jacket at the bottom of a bin that I had used to transport hangers and other supplies on the day of the Warmth in Cold Places distribution. I’m going to keep the jacket for now, along with a renewed dedication to setting a good example for my children by making “helping others” a priority, no matter how “busy” I think I am. Wish me luck! ☺

From Our Minister of Music

Our choir has already performed some lovely services this year. We celebrated Epiphany by singing four different settings of the text "What Star Is This?" allowing us to reflect on different interpretations of the Star of Bethlehem and what it means to follow our own stars. We sang a Martin Luther King service with Civil Rights music and an anthem using words by Harlem Renaissance poet Langston Hughes. Stay tuned for information about a spring Score Club and a spring choir retreat!

Board of Deacons - Anne Malmquist

The weekly mini-meetings after church on Sundays in lieu of monthly meetings are working wonderfully. A delegate has not been selected yet for the Nominating Committee.

Board of Trustees - John Sharland

The wall fan for the kitchen is in the works and will be installed soon. The cost will be around $114. The annual report was submitted a couple of weeks ago. [Delegate to the Nominating Committee is Ed McIntosh.]

Board of Christian Education

No one was able to attend the meeting from CE, but Lisa Masiello submitted a report that Diane delivered. Christian Ed has many events coming up including a Super Bowl appetizer fund raiser for the mission trip, college process workshop, and a February heart cookie decorating event. A full list will be in the upcoming Steeple Sounds.

Board of Christian Outreach-Bill O'Neil

Christian Outreach has been having a hard time coordinating time to meet the last few months. There was a successful distribution from their "Warmth in Cold Places" drive. Bill will check to make sure the annual report was submitted. Thanks to an idea from the Women's Guild, Outreach will have a rack of winter clothing for food pantry patrons. Terry Reynolds mentioned that Women's guild will be collecting items for the clothing rack. Bill and Jack picked up 1700 pounds of food in Fall River today. The food pantry is in excellent shape. A delegate has not been selected yet for the Nominating Committee.

Music Committee- Ellen Crawford

The mailer will be ready to go in early February, promoting the church's Easter events, CE family events, and our semi-monthly breakfasts. They will be making a video will be made of church attendees answering a question about why they like CSCC, which can be used on the website and on FB to promote the church. Coffee hour has hosts except for 2 weeks in March. Growth will be happy to help any boards or committees with publicity for their events. When they were reviewing the committee description in the bylaws they realized they should not only be involved in getting new members into the church but also be involved with new members thinking of actually joining the church. Gail asked Deacons to keep Growth in the new member loop.

Women's Guild and Fellowship-Terry Reynolds

Along with helping to stock the new food pantry clothing rack, their annual report has been submitted.

Other Business

- The Nominating Committee will be getting pulled together soon. Boards that have not submitted the name of their delegates to Diane need to do so by Monday. List of the status of this year's open positions was distributed. Everyone is encouraged to help talk up and identify church members and regular participants that may want to serve on a Board or Committee. Diane was pleased to announce that Anne Malmquist has accepted the nomination to be our next Moderator, as Diane's maximum service will be coming to a close at the end of this year.
 - The annual meeting will be held on Sunday February 10th. It will follow coffee hour and have soup and a simple buffet. Diane will be looking for 5-6 volunteers to bring a crockpot soup, as well as some other items.
 - Budget requests for the 2019-20 budget year are due to Trustees by March 15th.
 - When submitting articles for Steeple Sounds, make sure there is news about what the board/committee is doing, and any upcoming dates of events or projects. Include contact information even if it is simply the office. February Steeple Sounds articles are due to the office by Monday, 1/21.
 - Diane reminded the Cabinet members to please read Steeple Sounds each month so that we don't have to go into all the details at the Cabinet meeting, but everybody is informed and prepared with any questions or for any discussion that comes up.
 - February 20th will be the next Cabinet meeting.
